Occupational COVID-19 Workplace Training Scheme

preparing our workforce

Thank you joining the Occupational Covid-19 Workplace Training Scheme. You have taken the first step towards making sure your workplace is incorporating best practice towards infectious disease principles. This training package is relevant for all workplaces as defined by Safe Work Australia, except Health Care and Aged Care

As this program rolls out, we are constantly reviewing the ever-changing landscape and will update the training accordingly. Your feedback will be greatly appreciated to assist us with product enhancements.

Our program offers:

- 90 min online training program consistent with the advice from WHO and Australia Health Protection Principal Committee.
- Workplace Ready certificate
- Business participation certificate
- Embedded QR Technology and digital verification
- Professionally hardcopy printed lanyard (additional fee)
- Management dashboard and reporting
- Ongoing commitment to update our program in line with Safe Work Australia's recommendations

Our program is developing rapidly with updates and additional features being added to the system. We will add additional support and and training updates as timely as possible.

By joining the scheme, your organisation is joining forces with leaders from across Australia. By sharing knowledge and experience we will collectively support best practice guidelines that will keep Australians moving forward.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to our team at sales@covid.education

DeakinCo. have designed a program that gives a concise training of the key topics related to the COVID virus and important practices to ensure safety on & off a work site.

The program is interactive and easy to complete, as well as to administer from the back-end. Chandon was able to launch, track & certify all our employees within 48 hours.

With high profile Australians coming through our doors daily, we couldn't take the risk that our staff were not appropriately trained in COVID-19.

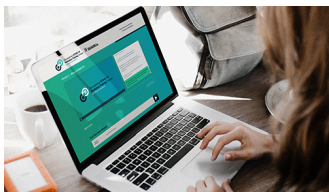

The online program was quick and easy to access. Our staff receive regular training updates which keeps their knowledge up to date and fresh. We would highly recommend this program.
